Daniela D. McKee, Anthony Bonacio, and Jacob Patrick Sewell Join Julie & Co. Realty, LLC

Saratoga Springs, NY – Julie & Co. Realty is proud to announce Daniela D. McKee, Anthony Bonacio, and Jacob Patrick Sewell as the newest members of our brokerage in Saratoga Springs, NY.

Daniela McKee was born in New York, but had the opportunity to spend her earliest years growing up in Italy and Peru. After moving back to the US, she attended college before taking on roles in retail and retail management. Since then, she has had 20 years of experience managing properties, including buying and selling residential properties, along with several commercial properties. Daniela is passionate about the buying and selling process, enjoying seeing each transaction through to the closing table. She believes this strong background in real estate property management will complement her expertise as a real estate salesperson. Daniela is well-versed in client relations and management, as well as fluent in Spanish and conversational in Italian.

Anthony Bonacio was born and raised in Saratoga Springs, NY. He graduated with his M.S. in Accountancy in 2019 from Siena College and began his career in accounting and finance. After being in the property management business and meeting salespeople, Anthony decided to pursue his own real estate license. He enjoys the ins and outs of the real estate business as well as meeting new people. Anthony divides his time between his career, spending time with his dog, and hiking in both the High Peaks region of the Adirondacks and the Rockies in the Western US. He also enjoys spending time with his family and partaking in landscape photography and videography.

Jacob Patrick Sewell lived in Greenfield, NY, for 18+ years and currently resides in Saratoga Springs, where he worked as a welder and fabricator for several years. Now working in real estate, Jake is particularly interested in helping others find the perfect home or investment property. When not helping home buyers and sellers, he enjoys skiing at Gore Mtn. and hiking and biking throughout upstate NY.

It is the mission of Julie & Co. Realty, LLC to provide our clients with an exemplary experience, by the utmost attention to detail. Our agents will provide accurate, up to date market conditions, skilled analysis, and sound real estate advice. We will continue to provide our agents with innovative new ideas and tools that will benefit both the agent's and client's expectations.
